To Whom It May Concern:

We are confident in recommending Scott Carbonara as a speaker. His passionate style engages the audience and he is incredibly informative. He relates directly with the audience through shared experiences and provides great advice.

Scott was the opening motivational speaker for a one day management retreat. His presentation on employee engagement was outstanding. He was energetic and used examples of how his concepts worked in real-life situations. His experiences allowed him to relate professionally and personally with all members of the audience.

Feedback from the management team was extremely positive. Many supervisors commented that he was one of the best speakers they had heard.

I can highly recommend Scott as a speaker and hope I have the opportunity to hear him again in the future.

Sincerely,

Beth W. Duncan
